08/31/2006	407	MINUTE entry before Judge Joan B. Gottschall : Plaintiff EEOC has filed a motion to file an oversized brief (31 pages) and to submit 500 separately–numbered statements of additional facts in opposition to summary judgment. The only reason given for seeking 31 pages (that IPA filed a 31 page brief) is equivalent to no reason and the reason given for 500 fact statements is close to as obscure. EEOC should draft its brief and determine whether it needs additional pages, and if so, how many. It should move for leave to file a brief with more fact statements than the rule allows only when and if it can submit its materials to the court for its review; additional statements will be allowed but the court has no intention of giving advance permission for an oppressive–sounding number like 500, without first seeing that a number like this is necessary. MOTION by Plaintiff Equal Employment Opportunity Commission for leave to file excess pages 403 is denied without prejudice to its resubmission when EEOC knows the number of pages it needs, and when the court can see what it intends to submit in terms of additional fact statements.
