1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION/SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

3 Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors are: B.L.N., a child who will turn two years of age 4 next month, who is detained at the Berks Family Residential Center with both of his 5 parents; D.F.L.G., a one-year old child, who is detained at the Karnes County
6 Residential Center with his parents; and W.B., an 8-year old child who is on her ninth 7 week of treatment for Tuberculosis and experiencing side effects as a result of 8 medication prescribed while detained at the South Texas Family Residential Center with 9 her mother. Their interests, which are shared by other accompanied Class Members, are 10 not adequately represented and irretrievably at odds with the inexplicable objective of 11 class counsel to develop a protocol that waives their right to release under the 12 Agreement and delays their release from a house ““on fire[.]”” June 26, 2020 Order 13 [Doc. # 834].

14 While any waiver protocol would likely violate due process rights of Proposed 15 Plaintiffs-Intervenors and other accompanied Class Members, the current conditions at 16 the FRCs present an intolerable risk of irreparable injury. Id. The Court has recognized 17 that the FRCs are ““on fire”” as a result of the current COVID-19 pandemic, and that 18 ““there no more time for half measures.”” Id. Proposed Plaintiffs-Intervenors therefore 19 seek an order immediately granting them leave to intervene to protect their interests in 20 full compliance with the Court’s orders and release from the FRCs, where those 21 interests are not adequately presented – and indeed, have been repeatedly dismissed and 22 ignored – by current class counsel.

23 Specifically, Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors request that this Court grant them 24 leave to intervene so that they may: (i) protect their interests in the enforcement of the 25 Agreement; (ii) address the adequacy of class counsel and seek appointment of co-
26 counsel to represent the interests of accompanied Class Members detained by the 27 Government at the FRCs; (iii) address Proposed Plaintiffs-Intervenors’ request for 28

1 reconsideration of the extension of the July 17, 2020 release deadline, and to address
2 any requests for subsequent extension; and (iv) address any proposed waiver protocol.

3 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

4 A. STATEMENT OF FACTS

5 The Flores litigation is in an unusual procedural posture. The case was settled 23 6 years ago by consent decree (the “Agreement”) which now governs the treatment of 7 detained immigrant children by the United States government; however, the Defendants 8 have rarely, if ever, been in full compliance with all of its terms. As this Court is well 9 aware, class counsel has been litigating various motions to enforce different provisions 10 of the Agreement and the Defendants’ non-compliance for many years. The Defendants, 11 Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf, the U.S. Department of Homeland 12 Security and its subordinate entities, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and 13 U.S. Customs and Border Protection, as well as the U.S. Department of Health and 14 Human Services’ Office of Refugee Resettlement (collectively, the “Government”) 15 continue to be bound by the terms of the Agreement.

16 In 2014, the Government increased the practice of detaining children with their 17 parents, and further litigation ensued with regard to enforcement of the Agreement and 18 the scope of the Class. On July 24, 2015, the Court found that the Agreement 19 encompasses both accompanied and unaccompanied minors. July 24, 2015 Order [Doc.
20 # 177]. As a result, the Court ordered the Government to release Class Members subject 21 to specific provisions of the Agreement while they await the results of their immigration 22 proceedings. This finding that accompanied children in immigration detention are 23 unambiguously Class Members was upheld by the United States Court of Appeals for 24 the Ninth Circuit. Flores v. Lynch, 828 F.3d 898 (9th Cir. 2016). In its opinion, the 25 Ninth Circuit stated:

26 We agree with the district court that “[t]he plain language of the Agreement 27 clearly encompasses accompanied minors.” First, the Settlement defines 28

1 minor as “any person under the age of eighteen (18) years who is detained 2 in the legal custody of the INS”; describes its scope as setting “nationwide 3 policy for the detention, release, and treatment of minors in the custody of 4 the INS”; and defines the class as “[a]ll minors who are detained in the 5 legal custody of the INS.” Settlement ¶¶ 4, 9, 10. Second, as the district 6 court explained, “the Agreement provides special guidelines with respect to 7 unaccompanied minors in some situations” and “[i]t would make little 8 sense to write rules making special reference to unaccompanied minors if 9 the parties intended the Agreement as a whole to be applicable only to 10 unaccompanied minors.” See id. ¶ 12(A) (“The INS will segregate 11 unaccompanied minors from unrelated adults.”); id. ¶ 25 (“Unaccompanied 12 minors arrested or taken into custody by the INS should not be transported 13 by the INS in vehicles with detained adults except . . .”). Third, as the 14 district court reasoned, “the Agreement expressly identifies those minors to 15 whom the class definition would not apply”—emancipated minors and 16 those who have been incarcerated for a criminal offense as an adult; “[h]ad 17 the parties to the Agreement intended to exclude accompanied minors from 18 the Agreement, they could have done so explicitly when they set forth the 19 definition of minors who are excluded from the Agreement.” See id. ¶ 4.

20 Id. at 905-06. Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors here seek only to have their own interests 21 in the rights that arise from the four corners of the Agreement represented before the 22 Court.

23 On June 27, 2017, the Court held that the Government was failing to comply with 24 its obligations under the Agreement due to the excessive length of detention of 25 accompanied Class Members with their parents in FRCs in undisputedly secure, 26 unlicensed facilities for up to eight months—well beyond the five-day time limit or the 27 exception of 20 days previously authorized in times of emergency or influx. June 27, 28

1 2017 Order [Doc. # 363]. The Court ordered the Government to appoint a Juvenile 2 Coordinator to oversee compliance with the Agreement, but the Court warned that if 3 conditions did not improve to reach substantial compliance with the Agreement within 4 one year of the Juvenile Coordinator’s appointment, the Court would reconsider the 5 Plaintiffs’ request to appoint an Independent Monitor. Id. In its Order, the Court 6 reiterated and quoted its previous July 24, 2015 order, which stated, “[t]he fact that the 7 family residential centers cannot be licensed by an appropriate state agency simply 8 means that, under the Agreement, Class Members cannot be housed in these facilities 9 except as permitted by the Agreement.’ July 24, 2015 Order, 212 F. Supp. 3d at 877.” Id.
10 The Court further stated that, “[f]or the reasons already discussed in previous orders and 11 since Plaintiffs have satisfied their burden, the Court once again finds that because the 12 family residential centers are secure, unlicensed facilities, Defendants cannot be deemed 13 in substantial compliance with the Agreement.” Id. The FRCs remain secure, unlicensed 14 facilities through the present day.

15 On July 9, 2018, the Court denied the Government’s request to exempt family 16 detention centers from the requirement that facilities detaining children be licensed by 17 an appropriate state agency so that it could continue to detain accompanied children 18 together with their parents in violation of the Agreement and previous court rulings. July 19 9, 2018 Order [Doc. # 455]. Noting “persistent problems” with the Government’s 20 compliance with the Agreement, on July 27, 2018 the Court issued the Minutes of a 21 Status Conference and Plaintiffs’ Motion to Enforce, and called for the appointment of a 22 Special Master/Independent Monitor. July 27, 2018 Minutes [Doc. # 469]. On October 23 5, 2018, the Court appointed Andrea Sheridan Ordin as the Independent Monitor tasked 24 with ensuring the Government’s compliance with the Court’s orders and other 25 oversight. October 5, 2018 Order [Doc. # 494].

26 On March 26, 2020, Plaintiffs filed a request for a temporary restraining order 27 and preliminary injunction to enforce the Agreement on behalf of both unaccompanied 28

1 Class Members in the custody of the Office of Refugee Resettlement (“ORR”) and 2 accompanied Class Members detained by ICE at the FRCs in light of the COVID-19
3 pandemic. Emergency Ex Parte Application for a Temporary Restraining Order [Doc. # 4 733]. Recognizing the risk of the emergent COVID-19 crisis to detained accompanied 5 Class Members, the Court issued a TRO on March 28, 2020 ordering the Government 6 to: (1) make every effort to promptly and safely release Class Members in accordance 7 with Paragraphs 14 and 18 of the Agreement and the Court’s prior orders; (2) submit to 8 inspections by the ICE Juvenile Coordinators; (3) provide evidentiary snapshots to the 9 Court, the Independent Monitor, and class counsel; and (4) show cause by April 10, 10 2020, why the Court should not grant Plaintiffs’ motion for preliminary injunction.
11 March 28, 2020 Order [Doc. # 740].

12 On April 10, 2020, the Court extended the TRO for an additional 14 days, and 13 ordered the Government to Show Cause by April 24, 2020 why a preliminary injunction 14 should not issue requiring the Government to make and record continuous efforts to 15 release Class Members and enjoining the Government from keeping minors who have 16 suitable custodians in congregate custody “due to ICE’s unexplained failure to release 17 these minors within 20 days, especially given the emergent circumstances and the 18 Court’s prior orders requiring the same (see, e.g., July 24, 2015 Order [Doc. # 177], 19 June 27, 2017 Order [Doc. # 363], July 9, 2018 Order [Doc. # 455], July 30, 2018 Order 20 [Doc. # 470]).” April 10, 2020 Order [Doc. #768]. The Court further ordered that the 21 Government “shall make every effort to promptly and safely release Class Members in 22 accordance with Paragraphs 14 and 18 of the FSA and the Court’s prior orders (see, e.g., 23 July 24, 2015 Order [Doc. # 177], June 27, 2017 Order [Doc. # 363], July 9, 2018 Order 24 [Doc. # 455], July 30, 2018 Order [Doc. # 470]).”

25 On April 24, 2020, the Court found inter alia that “Plaintiffs have raised 26 significant concerns by a preponderance of the evidence about each FRC’s ability to 27 provide safe and sanitary conditions.” April 24, 2020 Order [Doc. #784] at 6. Moreover, 28

1 the Court found “that ICE did not seek or obtain formal waivers from detained parents 2 of their children’s Flores rights” during ICE’s “binary choice” interviews in mid-May 3 2020. May 22, 2020 Order [Doc. # 799]. However, the Court specifically noted “those 4 conversations caused confusion and unnecessary emotional upheaval and did not appear 5 to serve the agency’s legitimate purpose of making continuous individualized inquiries 6 regarding efforts to release minors.” Id. The Court ordered continued heightened 7 monitoring of the FRCs based on ICE’s lack of compliance with Paragraph 12 and 8 Exhibit 1 of the Agreement, and ordered ICE to “continue to make every effort to 9 promptly and safely release Class Members who have suitable custodians in accordance 10 with Paragraphs 14 and 18 of the FSA and the Court’s prior orders, including those 11 categorized as “MPP,” participants in class litigation, “pending IJ hearing/decision” or 12 “pending USCIS response,” absent a specific and individualized determination that they 13 are a flight risk or a danger to themselves or others, or a proper waiver of Flores rights 14 (see, e.g., July 24, 2015 Order [Doc. # 177], June 27, 2017 Order [Doc. # 363], July 9, 15 2018 Order [Doc. # 455], July 30, 2018 Order [Doc. # 470]).”

16 On May 22, 2020, the Court noted that ICE in particular “continues to show lack 17 of compliance with Paragraph 18 of the FSA, which requires Defendants to “make and 18 record the prompt and continuous efforts on its part toward family reunification and the 19 release of the minor.’ Flores Agreement at ¶ 18 [Doc. # 101],” and further that ICE’s 20 report “fails to show how ICE has cured the deficiencies already identified by the Court 21 in its April 24, 2020 Order.” May 22, 2020 Minutes [Doc. # 799] The Court expressed 22 its concern with the implementation of public health guidances at the Family Residential 23 Centers (FRCs), given the declarations submitted by Plaintiffs showing that there are 24 minors in custody with pre-existing medical conditions and that conditions remain 25 unsafe and crowded—despite reduced populations—at each FRC. Id. The Court 26 ordered, inter alia, that the “ICE Juvenile Coordinator shall provide specific 27 explanations for the continued detention of each minor detained at an FRC beyond 20 28

1 days and review each explanation with the Independent Monitor, Andrea Ordin, before 2 submitting the updated report to the Court,” and ordered the parties to “meet and confer 3 regarding the adoption and implementation of proper written advisals and other 4 protocols to inform detained guardians about minors’ rights under the Agreement and 5 obtain information regarding available sponsors.” Id. The Court further ordered 6 enhanced monitoring of the FRCs by Dr. Paul Wise and Independent Monitor Andrea 7 Ordin. Id.

8 On June 26, 2020, after receiving interim reports from the Special Monitor and 9 court-appointed medical expert, Dr. Paul Wise, Juvenile Monitors, and an amicus curiae
10 brief filed by Aldea – The People’s Justice Center, Proyecto Dilley, and RAICES,<sup>2</sup> the 11 Court entered an order stating that “[a]lthough progress has been made, the Court is not 12 surprised that COVID-19 has arrived at both the FRCs and ORR facilities, as health 13 professionals have warned all along that individuals living in congregate settings are 14 more vulnerable to the virus” concluding that “[t]he FRCs are ‘on fire’ and there is no 15 more time for half measures.” June 26, 2020 Order [Doc. # 833.]

16 The Court ordered that:

17 given the severity of the outbreak in the counties in which FRCs are 18 located and the Independent Monitor’s and Dr. Wise’s observations of non-19 compliance or spotty compliance with masking and social distancing rules, 20 renewed and more vigorous efforts must be undertaken to transfer Class 21 Members residing at the FRCs to non-congregate settings through one of 22 two means: (1) releasing minors to available suitable sponsors or other

---

24 <sup>2</sup> The non-profit organizations directly representing accompanied Class Members and 25 their parents filed a joint amicus curiae brief with evidence that counsel for amici 26 believed was vital for the Court’s consideration, after determining that they could no 27 longer work directly with Flores class counsel given Mr. Schey’s advocacy for and

11 B. CURRENT STATUS

12 The Court’s most recent order instructed the Government to do three things: 1) 13 Release all Class Members by July 17, 2020; 2) “with all deliberate speed”; and 3) 14 implement increased protections, as recommended by the CDC, the Independent 15 Monitor, and Dr. Wise. Flores v. Barr, June 26, 2020 Order [Doc. # 833]. Since the 16 filing of Plaintiffs’ initial Motion to for Preliminary Injunction in March 2020 due to the 17 COVID-19 pandemic, this Court has ordered the Government on three separate 18 occasions to release Class Members “without unnecessary delay,” and has made clear 19 that the Government violates the Agreement through the unnecessary delay in their 20 release without reason. Flores v. Barr, Order Granting TRO, (March 28, 2020) [Doc. #
21 740]. Despite the increasing urgency of COVID-19’s spread, including the at least 79 22 positive COVID-19 cases of detainees and staff at the FRCs as of July 15, 2020<sup>3</sup>, and 23 the clear demonstration of the Government’s inability to prevent the spread of infectious 24

25 <sup>3</sup> The government has been required to file notices of positive COVID-19 cases for all 3 FRCs in 26 O.M.G. v. Wolf, No. 1:20-cv-786-JEB (D.D.C. March 2020). The count of at least 79 detainees and 27 staff testing positive is a cumulative total based on the following notices filed in O.M.G.: Doc. 93, 28 Doc. 90, Doc. 86, Doc. 82, Doc. 81, Doc. 80, Doc. 79, Doc. 77, Doc. 75, Doc. 73, Doc.
70, and Doc. 69.

1 diseases in the FRCs in general, the Government has neither complied with the Court’s 2 order to release Class Members nor has it complied with its regulatory requirement to 3 evaluate release of family units together. See 8 C.F.R. § 1236.3(b)(2). Further, there is 4 no evidence that the Government has even attempted to comply with the Court’s order 5 to “urgently enforce its existing COVID-19 protocols.” June 26, 2020 Order at 4. To the 6 contrary, the evidence that the Government is failing to comply with the Court’s order 7 has only grown. The South Texas Family residential Center violated its own COVID-19 8 protocols regarding social distancing and the use of PPE during an all-facility Fourth of 9 July Party. See Declaration of Shalyn Fluharty, ¶ 43. As COVID-19 spreads unchecked
10 through the FRCs, the Government continues to refuse to explain its failures to comply 11 with the Court’s repeated orders either to release the Class Members or to implement 12 adequate safety procedures.

13 The Court has made clear in each of its orders that its primary concern is for the 14 children confined to the FRCs who are in imminent danger of infection with COVID-15 19. The purpose of the Court’s previous orders since the pandemic outbreak has been to 16 prevent “irreparable harm” to the lives and safety of children in the Government’s care 17 as well as to the communities surrounding the FRCs, finding that mere “financial and 18 administrative concerns” are not sufficient justification for the Government’s failures to 19 promptly release or otherwise take action to protect Class Members when “public health 20 and safety in the midst of pandemic” are at stake. Flores v. Barr, Order Granting TRO, 21 (March 28, 2020) [Doc. # 740].<sup>4</sup> In defiance of this finding, the Government, rather than 22 working to release Class Members in an orderly manner or addressing ongoing failures 23 to implement basic safety measures to prevent the spread of COVID-19, has instead

25 <sup>4</sup> Proposed Plaintiffs-Intervenors submit herewith the Declaration of Catherine 26 Troisi, Ph.D., Associate Professor in the Department of Management, Policy and 27 Community Health and Department of Epidemiology, Human Genetics, and 28 Environmental Sciences and Center for Infectious Diseases at the University of Texas Health Science Center. As set forth in full therein, any additional time in FRCs will increase the probability that a child will be exposed to the SARS-Cov-2 virus and become infected.

1 engaged class counsel to focus their time and energy on drafting administrative 2 protocols for the waiver of Class Members’ rights, a process which: (1) is certain to 3 further unnecessary delay of the release of Class Members beyond this Court’s July 17, 4 2020 deadline, as no agreed-upon waiver protocol has yet been presented to Class 5 Members, their parents, or legal counsel; (2) has not been shown to comply with the 6 existing Agreement and applicable portions of the INA; and (3) has not been shown to 7 afford Class Members and their parents due process of law.

8         There has been no explanation from the Government for its decision to disregard 9 the Court’s mandate of prompt and orderly release with immediate implementation of 10 existing safety protocols at the FRCs, in favor of advocating for the first-time 11 implementation of a completely untested and unvetted waiver protocol during a 12 pandemic. Any reason the Government could put forward would not outweigh the 13 urgent requirements of public health and safety. Moreover, this waiver protocol, the 14 terms of which are secret as of Saturday, July 18, 2020, with no input from child welfare 15 advocates, or experts on the profound harm of separation, and over the objections of the 16 the Plaintiff-Intervenors to the coercive and involuntary nature of any consent to 17 separate or waiver of rights under the Agreement.

18         On July 17, 2020, 94 child welfare, health, and safety experts including the 19 American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, the Buffett Early Childhood 20 Institute at the University of Nebraska, the Child Welfare League of America, the 21 Children’s Defense Fund, the National Association for Children's Behavioral Health, 22 National Association of Pediatric Nurse Practitioners, and many more organizations 23 signed on to a letter to ICE Acting Director Matthew Albence to call upon the 24 Government to safely and immediately release all children together with their families 25 from the FRCs.<sup>5</sup> Also, on July 17, 2020, 120 non-governmental organizations, including

1 Amnesty International, the Women’s Refugee Commission, Physicians for Human 2 Rights, National Youth Law Center and many others signed a letter signed a letter to 3 Acting DHS Secretary Chad Wolf and Acting ICE Director Matthew Albence calling for 4 accompanied Class Members detained at FRCs to be released with their parents, citing 5 the dangers of COVID-19 and the harm of family separation.<sup>6</sup>

6 Separate and apart from the Agreement itself, the Government has an affirmative 7 obligation pursuant to applicable federal regulations to evaluate the simultaneous 8 release of the Plaintiff-Intervenors (accompanied Class Members) and their parent(s) in 9 its discretion. See 8 U.S.C. § 1182(d)(5)(A) (providing for parole “for urgent 10 humanitarian reasons or significant public benefit”); 8 C.F.R. § 1236.3(b)(2). It is clear 11 that the Government has already decided, with no reasoned explanation, that it has no 12 intention of exercising its discretion to release Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors together 13 with their parents. The Court specifically included in its June 26, 2020 Order its concern 14 that Class Members remain detained “for arbitrary and inconsistent reasons” due to 15 “incomplete, infrequent, and at times, inaccurate, parole determinations.” June 26, 2020 16 Minute Order at 2. Despite the expressed concerns of the Court, independent legal and 17 medical monitors, and Class Members themselves, the Government and class counsel 18 remain engaged in an administrative exercise to develop a waiver protocol.

19 Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors are currently awaiting the decision of United States
20 District Court Judge James E. Boasberg sometime this week as to whether that court 21 will order the release of the detained families together based on the Constitutional rights 22 of the parents and their children.

23 Plaintiff-Intervenors have made their positions clear to both the Government and 24 class counsel throughout the duration of this crisis. Plaintiff-Intervenors’ concern tracks 25 exactly with that of the Court’s—maintaining public health and safety and ensuring that

1 childrens’ lives are not endangered. Class Members’ concerns regarding the 2 Government’s and class counsel’s blind focus on developing a waiver protocol, while 3 failing to simultaneously implement strict and stringent safety procedures at the FRCs 4 or prompt release, have remained consistently unaddressed. It is unclear why class 5 counsel is advocating for consent to separate the Plaintiffs-Intervenors from their 6 accompanying parents or a waiver of their rights under the Agreement that would 7 inevitably lead to indefinite detention in unsafe, unsanitary, and unlicensed conditions 8 during a pandemic as the sole alternative. It is the Government’s obligation to comply 9 with the Agreement. At no time, to the Plaintiff-Intervenors knowledge or that of their 10 counsel, has the Government considered any other avenues for it to be in compliance 11 with the Agreement other than forcing a binary choice between family separation or 12 exposure to COVID-19 upon them. For example, the Government could come up with a 13 plan to transfer the Plaintiff-Intervenors and their accompanying parents to non-14 congregate facilities that are licensed and non-secure. The Government has had 23 years 15 to create and develop such facilities and numerous recommendations from this Court to 16 do so.

17 For the longest detained accompanied Class Members at the FRCs, the 18 Government has had up to eleven months to come up with a solution, and even since the 19 beginning of the pandemic, they have had five months – far in excess of the 20 days 20 which they are permitted to detain children. They have not even tried to do so, and the 21 Plaintiff-Intervenors should not pay the price for the Government’s failure with their 22 lives or their health.<sup>7</sup>

23 Most recently, in a filing submitted after hours on Wednesday, July 15, 2020, 24 without consultation with or the consent of any of the accompanied Class Members bless the breach. That is not how contracts work.”)

1 detained with their parents at the three FRCs, class counsel stipulated with the 2 Government to extend the July 17, 2020 deadline for release ordered by the Court. Thus, 3 class counsel has sought, jointly with the Government, the extension of his own
4 clients’ detention at facilities with active COVID-19 outbreaks. Proposed Plaintiff-5 Intervenor therefore request intervention for the limited purpose of ensuring that that 6 their interests are protected, that their rights are advocated for, that orders given to 7 preserve their lives and well-being are enforced, and that their concerns are not ignored
8 to the detriment of their own health and safety and that of the public. The emergent 9 nature of these warnings cannot be understated as with each update by government 10 counsel more children, more parents, and more detention staff become infected with 11 COVID-19.

12 III. ARGUMENT

13 Plaintiff-Intervenors, three accompanied Class Members detained with their 14 parents at the three FRCs, respectfully request that the Court grant them leave to 15 intervene so that they may: (i) protect their interests in the enforcement of the 16 Agreement; (ii) address the adequacy of class counsel and seek appointment of co-
17 counsel to represent the interests of accompanied Class Members detained by the 18 Government at the FRCs; (iii) address Proposed Plaintiffs-Intervenors’ request for 19 reconsideration of the extension of the July 17, 2020 release deadline, and to address 20 any requests for subsequent extension; and (iv) address any proposed waiver protocol.

21 A. LEGAL STANDARD

22 In order “to protect class members and fairly conduct the action[,]” Rule 23 23(d)(1)(B)(iii) expressly authorizes the Court to issue orders providing class members 24 “the opportunity to signify whether they consider the representation fair and adequate, 25 to intervene and present claims or defenses or to otherwise come into the action. Rule 26 24 provides one such procedural vehicle for class members to address their concerns.
27 “[M]embers of a class have a right to intervene if their interests are not adequately 28

1 represented by existing parties[.]” Standard Fire Ins. Co. v. Knowles, 133 S. Ct. 1345, 2 1349 (2013) (quoting Newberg on Class Actions).

3 Rule 24 provides that intervention may be allowed as of right or permissively;
4 here, proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors request intervention on both grounds. The Ninth 5 Circuit has held that a district court must grant a motion to intervene as of right pursuant 6 to Rule 24(a)(2), “if four criteria are met: timeliness, an interest relating to the subject of 7 the litigation, practical impairment of an interest of the party seeking intervention if 8 intervention is not granted, and inadequate representation by the parties to the action.” 9 United States v. Washington, 86 F.3d 1499, 1503 (9th Cir. 1996). These factors are 10 construed broadly in favor of intervention. See id.; see also Donnelly v. Glickman, 159
11 F.3d 405, 409 (9th Cir. 1998); League of United Latin Am. Citizens v. Wilson, 131 F.3d
12 1297, 1302 (9th Cir. 1997); Nw. Forest Res. Counsel v. Glickman, 82 F.3d 825, 836 13 (9th Cir. 1996).<sup>8</sup>

14 Timeliness is a threshold requirement for application to intervene as a matter of 15 right. League of United Latin Am. Citizens, 131 F.3d at 1302; see also NAACP v. New 16 York, 413 U.S. 345, 369, 93 S. Ct. 2591, 37 L. Ed. 2d 648 (1973). If a motion to 17 intervene is not timely, the court need not consider the other factors in 18 denying intervention. Washington, 86 F.3d at 1503. The United States Supreme Court 19 has stated that “[t]imeliness is to be determined from all the circumstances. And it is to 20 be determined by the court in the exercise of its sound discretion; unless that discretion 21 is abused, the court’s ruling will not be disturbed on review.” NAACP v. New York, 413 22 U.S. at 366.

24
25 <sup>8</sup> Moreover, Courts in this circuit approve intervention motions without a pleading 26 where they are otherwise apprised of the grounds for the motion. Beckman Indus., Inc., 27 v. International Ins. Co., 966 F.2d 470, 474 (9th Cir. 1992); Westchester Fire Ins. Co. v.
28 Mendez, 585 F.3d 1183, 1188 (9th Cir. 2009)(“the failure to comply with the Rule 24(c) requirement for a pleading is a ‘purely technical’ defect which does not result in the ‘disregard of any substantial right.’”)

1 In determining whether a motion to intervene is timely, the Ninth Circuit 2 considers three factors: (1) the stage of the proceedings at the time the applicant seeks 3 to intervene; (2) the prejudice to the other parties if the motion is granted; and (3) the 4 reason for and length of the delay. League of United Latin Am. Citizens, 131 F.3d
5 at 1302; United States v. Oregon, 745 F.2d 550, 552 (9th Cir. 1984). Post-judgment 6 motions to intervene are not necessarily untimely, and have been allowed under certain 7 circumstances. See United States ex rel. McGough v. Covington Techs. Co., 967 F.2d 8 1391, 1394-95 (9th Cir.1992); United Airlines, Inc. v. McDonald, 432 U.S. 385, 395-96, 9 (1977). In general, post-judgment interventions are tolerated when a party with interests 10 similar to the applicant’s fails to take further action. United States ex rel. McGough, 11 967 F.2d at 1393. In Pellegrino v. Nesbit, the Ninth Circuit stated that “[i]ntervention 12 should be allowed even after a final judgment where it is necessary to preserve some 13 right which cannot otherwise be protected.” Pellegrino v. Nesbit, 203 F.2d 463, 465 (9th 14 Cir. 1953).

15 A party’s interests are “practically impaired” absent a grant of intervention if they 16 “would be substantially affected in a practical sense by the determination made in an 17 action.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 24 advisory comm. nn. (Am. 1966). This requirement “is 18 primarily a practical guide to disposing of lawsuits by involving as many apparently 19 concerned persons as is compatible with efficiency and due process.” County of Fresno 20 v. Andrus, 622 F.2d 436 (9th Cir. 1980) (quoting Nuesse v. Camp, 385 F.2d 694 (D.C.
21 Cir. 1967)). Intervention as of right is appropriate in order to afford affected parties the 22 “opportunity to argue the propriety of, or limit the scope of, the injunctive relief sought 23 by plaintiffs.” Forest Conservation Council v. U.S. Forest Service, 66 F.3d 1489, 1498 24 (9th Cir. 1995).

25 The prospective intervenor’s burden to show that existing representation is 26 inadequate is “minimal: it is sufficient to show that representation may be inadequate.”
27 Forest Conservation Council v. U.S. Forest Service, 66 F.3d 1489, 1498 (9th Cir. 1995).
28

1 Even if the Court finds that the Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors who are 2 accompanied Class Members are not entitled to intervene as of right, they should 3 nonetheless be permitted to intervene pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 24(b).
4 The Court may allow ““permissive intervention where the applicant for intervention 5 shows (1) independent grounds for jurisdiction; (2) the motion is timely; and (3) the 6 applicant’s claim or defense, and the main action, have a question of law or a question 7 of fact in common.”” United States v. City of Los Angeles, 288 F.3d 391, 403 (9th Cir.
8 2002) (quoting Northwest Forest Res. Council v. Glickman, 82 F.3d 825, 839 (9th Cir.
9 1996)). In considering whether to grant permissive intervention, the Court “must 10 consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the 11 original parties’ rights.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(b)(3).

12 B. INTERVENTION SHOULD BE GRANTED UNDER RULE 24(A).

13 1. The Motion to Intervene is timely.

14 Timeliness with respect to motions to intervene “is a flexible concept,” United 15 States v. Alisal Water Corp., 370 F.3d 915, 921 (9th Cir. 2004). The circumstances 16 surrounding this litigation are unusual. Smith v. L.A. Unified Sch. Dist., 830 F.3d 843
17 (9th Cir. 2016). When evaluating the timeliness of a motion, the “[m]ere lapse of time 18 alone is not determinative.” Id. at 854 (citing United States v. State of Oregon, 745 F.2d 19 550, 552 (9th Cir. 1984)). Where a change of circumstances occurs, and that change is 20 the “major reason” for the motion to intervene, the stage of proceedings factor should be 21 analyzed by reference to the change in circumstances, and not the commencement of the 22 litigation. See id. In this case, the Government and class counsel have stipulated to 23 delay implementation of the Court’s orders in order to develop a protocol for 24 accompanied Class Members to be given the “option” of forced separation from their 25 parents, or else face imminent exposure to a deadly virus, over the objections of 26 accompanied Class Members and in disregard of their interests. This action by the 27 Government and counsel seeking to extend the detention of accompanied Class 28

1 Members at facilities with COVID-19 outbreaks (79 positive cases as of July 19, 2020)
2 occurred only recently and constitutes changed circumstances. Further, the terms of any 3 waiver protocol developed jointly by the Government and class counsel have not even 4 been disclosed to accompanied Class Members. The proposed intervention by the 5 accompanied Class Members detained at the FRCs is thus timely.

6 2. The Proposed Intervenors have an interest relating to the subject 7 of the litigation.

8 The Plaintiff-Intervenors, accompanied children detained with their parents at the 9 FRCs, are already Class Members and Plaintiffs. Therefore, it is clear that the Proposed 10 Intervenors have an interest relating to the subject of the litigation and the enforcement 11 of the Agreement (the minimal standards for the treatment of detained immigrant 12 children by the United States government). The Proposed-Intervenors seek to intervene 13 in the enforcement of the Agreement to ensure that their legal positions and arguments 14 are known and articulated to the Court, to ensure that the Court has all necessary factual
15 information, and to seek reconsideration of the Government's and class counsel's 16 stipulation to an extension of their already impermissibly lengthy detention in 17 congregate settings during a pandemic.

18 3. The interests of the Proposed Intervenors will be practically 19 impaired if intervention is not granted.

20 Plaintiff-Intervenors' interests in enforcing the previously-issued orders from this 21 Court and ensuring their prompt and orderly release from detention, as well as their 22 detention in safe and sanitary conditions pending their release, will be practically 23 impaired absent a grant of intervention. Plaintiff-Intervenors' specific arguments 24 regarding the propriety and scope of proposed injunctive relief, actions to enforce orders 25 of the Court, and the safeguarding of their existing rights against undue infringement, 26 will go unheard before this Court absent a grant of intervention. This Court has found 27 ICE to be in violation of the Agreement's requirements that Class Members may not be 28

1 detained in secure, unlicensed facilities at all three of the FRCs, even before the onset of 2 the current crisis brought on by the pandemic. The Government’s failure to comply with 3 their responsibilities to promptly release the Plaintiff-Intervenors and to provide safe 4 and sanitary conditions in licensed, non-secure facilities even outside of the threat 5 brought on by COVID-19 has not been properly enforced or addressed by class counsel, 6 who instead has unilaterally pursued an uncertain process of developing a protocol to 7 waive their right to release under the Agreement, which Plaintiff-Intervenors aver may 8 violate the due process and other legal rights of both parents and their Class Member 9 children.

10 Current Flores class counsel Peter Schey, Center for Human Rights &
11 Constitutional Law, has refused multiple requests by attorneys with the non-profits 12 directly representing accompanied Class Members and their parents that he present their 13 arguments to the Court that neither a consent to separate nor a waiver of accompanied 14 Class Members’ Flores rights not to be indefinitely detained could be voluntary under 15 the coercive circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic. Attorneys and non-profits 16 directly representing accompanied Class Members and their parents have also 17 repeatedly informed class counsel that consent to separation cannot be knowing when 18 there is no information about the terms of the consent or waiver, much less the legal 19 consequences of such a choice available to the decision-makers – the parents of 20 accompanied children who are detained at the FRCs. Without the Court’s order granting 21 accompanied Class Members detained at the FRCs leave to intervene, their interests will 22 be impaired as a practical matter as none of these positions will even be mentioned, 23 much less argued, before the Court.

24 4. Current representation of the Plaintiff-Intervenors’ interests is 25 inadequate.

26 The position and interests of the Plaintiff-Intervenors, as those of all accompanied 27 Class Members detained at the FRCs, are not currently adequately represented before 28

1 this Court with regard to the immediate and urgent issue of their unlawfully lengthy 2 detention amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, the positions of the accompanied 3 Class Members detained by ICE in the FRCs that are not being adequately pleaded and 4 articulated to the Court are:

- 5 a) Plaintiff-Intervenors will seek reconsideration of the July 17, 2020 deadline, 6 given the already excessive length of their detention and the rapidly escalating 7 numbers of the positive COVID-19 cases at the FRCs.

8 The Plaintiff-Intervenors strongly object to the agreed Stipulation for a 10-day 9 extension of the Friday, July 17, 2020 release deadline (filed after hours on Wednesday, 10 July 15, 2020), and will seek reconsideration of that extension. Flores class counsel did 11 not consult with Plaintiff-Intervenors or any other accompanied Class Members 12 detained at the FRCs, their parents, or their counsel in agreeing to this stipulation.
13 Further, it is abundantly clear, that during this time of extension, and indeed the period 14 which has run subsequent to each order from this Court following the commencement of 15 the pandemic, no party is heeding the warnings of this Court and the independent 16 monitors by advocating and ensuring continuing and strict implementation of the basic 17 health and safety policies necessary to protect accompanied children who remain 18 languishing in the FRCs.

- 19 b) The detention of accompanied Class Members at secure, non-licensed 20 facilities continues to violate the Flores Settlement Agreement such that no 21 accompanied class member may be held at any of the three FRCs for any 22 length of time, but Flores class counsel has declined multiple requests to make 23 this argument.

24 As detailed above, this Court has repeatedly ordered the Government to comply 25 with the Agreement, and has held more than once that the three FRCs do not comply 26 with the Agreement's requirements that Class Members may be detained only in non-27 secure, licensed facilities. Plaintiff-Intervenors' prolonged detention in unlicensed, 28

1 secure facilities violates Paragraphs 11 and 19 of the Agreement and its requirement that 2 children be detained in the “least restrictive setting.”

3 Pursuant to the Agreement, children who are determined to be a flight risk or a 4 danger to themselves or others under Paragraph 14 may be “placed temporarily in a 5 licensed program until such a time as release can be effected in accordance with 6 Paragraph 14 above or until the minor’s immigration proceedings are concluded, 7 whichever occurs earlier.” FSA, ¶ 19. Even under those circumstances, ICE “shall place 8 each detained minor in the least restrictive setting appropriate to the minor’s age and 9 special needs, provided that each setting is consistent with its interests to ensure the 10 minor’s timely appearance before the [Department] and the immigration courts and to 11 protect the minor’s well-being and that of others.” FSA, ¶ 11.

12 As noted above, in 2015, the Court determined that “according to the language of 13 the Agreement, [ICE] must house children who are not released in a non-secure facility 14 that is licensed by the appropriate state agency to care for dependent children.” Flores 15 v. Johnson, 212 F. Supp. 3d at 877. “The fact that the family residential centers cannot 16 be licensed by an appropriate state agency simply means that, under the Agreement, 17 Class Members cannot be housed in these facilities except as permitted by the 18 Agreement.” Id. In 2017, Judge Gee “once again [found] that because the family 19 residential centers are secure, unlicensed facilities, [ICE] cannot be deemed in 20 substantial compliance with the Agreement.” Flores v. Sessions, 394 F. Supp. 3d at 21 1070.

22 It is undisputed that the three Family Detention Centers in Berks, Dilley, and 23 Karnes continue to be secure and unlicensed and therefore do not comply with the 24 Agreement. See id. at 1068–69 (“Defendants do not dispute that the family residential 25 centers continue to be unlicensed”; “Defendants do not dispute that the facilities are 26 secure”). For Plaintiff-Intervenors and all accompanied children detained at the FRCs 27 that have never been determined to be a flight risk or a danger to themselves or others, 28

1 detention in a secure, unlicensed facility is not the “least restrictive setting appropriate 2 to the minor’s age and special needs.” FSA, ¶ 11. As a result, the Government’s choice
3 to detain Plaintiff-Intervenors at the FRCs has been and continues to be unlawful. Yet, 4 for unknown reasons, class counsel has failed to adequately represent the interests of 5 Plaintiff-Intervenors by seeking an injunction to prevent the Government from detaining 6 Class Members at the FRCs and has not zealously advocated for their release based on 7 the Government’s continuing non-compliance with the orders of this Court.

8 c) Plaintiff-Intervenors doubt the validity of any waiver because there can be no 9 voluntary consent to separate from parents under the coercive circumstances 10 of the pandemic with active COVID-19 outbreaks at two out of the three 11 FRCs.<sup>9</sup>

12 The attorneys at the non-profit organizations directly representing accompanied 13 Flores Class Members detained at the FRCs have voiced their strong objections 14 repeatedly and directly to Flores class counsel on multiple occasions to class counsel’s 15 focus on developing a waiver protocol, rather than on enforcing the existing orders, and 16 have expressed their doubt that a “voluntary” waiver of Class Members’ Flores rights or 17 parental consent to separate is possible under the current, dire conditions of pandemic.
18 Plaintiff-Intervenors are being offered the “option” of either separating from their 19 parents, which is well-documented as causing life-long trauma or extended detention, 20 which is also well-documented as causing life-long-trauma, in addition to exposure to a 21 deadly virus. See Govindaiah Decl., ¶¶ 3-4; Exs. B, C.

22 d) Plaintiff-Intervenors object to any protocol whereby the terms and legal 23 consequences of a waiver are completely unknown, and where counsel for 24 accompanied Class Members will be informed after the “choice” between 25 separation and indefinite detention is made.

27 <sup>9</sup> Accompanied Class Members do not concede that there can be any voluntary waiver of Flores rights against 28 indefinite detention under threat of family separation or vice versa as a general, but the instant motion is focused on the extreme and urgent circumstances that exist specific to the coronavirus pandemic.

1 No “knowing” consent to separate or to waive their rights under the Agreement
2 can be given when neither counsel nor decision-makers for accompanied Class 3 Members have been provided with any information whatsoever as to the legal 4 consequences of that choice. The non-profits providing direct representation to 5 accompanied Class Members and their parents are not in any position to advise them 6 properly. Counsel for the Plaintiff-Intervenors have received no information from either 7 the Government or class counsel regarding the terms and/or the legal consequences of 8 any purported waiver. Moreover, class counsel, in a telephone call update, stated that it 9 was unclear whether parents would be able to consult with counsel, would meet with 10 ICE alone/unrepresented, and that ICE would advise counsel for the accompanied Class 11 Members of the parents’ “choice” after the parents make their decision.

12 C. INTERVENTION SHOULD BE GRANTED UNDER RULE 24(B).

13 The standard for permissive intervention is easily satisfied here, as all that is 14 required is “a common question of law or fact.” Kootenai Tribe of Idaho v. Veneman, 15 313 F.3d 1094, 1111 (9th Cir. 2002). Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors do not raise any 16 novel or additional questions of law and fact. Rather, they seek to protect the 17 substantive rights of all Class Members under the Agreement and ensure that the 18 Government comply with the Court’s order to release all Class Members with all 19 deliberate speed and implement increased protections from COVID-19. Where, as here, 20 current class counsel has ignored the objections of the Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors 21 and failed to adequately advocate on their behalf, permissive intervention is appropriate.
22 Newberg on Class Actions § 9:36 (5th ed., 2020) (observing that courts are more 23 amenable to permissive intervention “when intervention would strengthen the adequacy 24 of the representation.”).

25 IV. CONCLUSION

26 For all the foregoing reasons, Proposed Plaintiff-Intervenors, B.L.N, D.F.L.G. and 27 W.B., accompanied Class Members detained with their parents at the three Family 28

1 Residential Centers respectfully request that this Court enter the Proposed Order 2 submitted herewith, which will grant them leave to intervene so as to: (i) protect their 3 interests in the enforcement of the Agreement; (ii) address the adequacy of class counsel
4 and appointment of co-counsel to represent the interests of accompanied Class Members 5 detained by the Government at the FRCs; (iii) address Proposed Plaintiffs-Intervenors' 6 request for reconsideration of the extension of the July 17, 2020 release deadline, and to 7 address any request for any extension; and (iv) address any proposed waiver protocol; 8 and that the Court grant such other and further relief as it may deem just and proper.
