UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF THE
BLIND OF CALIFORNIA, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

UBER TECHNOLOGIES, INC.,

Defendant.

Case No. 14-cv-04086-NC

AMENDED ORDER
GRANTING IN PART
PLAINTIFFS’ MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND COSTS; DENYING ADMINISTRATIVE MOTION TO SEAL

Re: Dkt. Nos. 185, 189

In this class action, plaintiffs National Federation of the Blind (“NFIB”) and various disabled individuals accused defendant Uber Technologies, Inc. of failing to accommodate their disabled customers traveling with service animals. In 2016, the parties settled the class action. Plaintiffs now bring their second motion for attorneys’ fees and costs seeking reimbursement for their efforts monitoring Uber’s compliance with the settlement. See Dkt. No. 185. The Court finds that Plaintiffs are entitled to fees, but certain fees are unreasonable. Accordingly, the Court GRANTS IN PART and DENIES IN PART Plaintiffs’ motion for attorneys’ fees and costs.

I. Procedural History

In September 2014, Plaintiffs initiated this class action against Uber alleging discrimination against the blind under the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”), 42

1 U.S.C. § 12101 et seq. and various California-law analogues. See Dkt. No. 1. The parties
 2 settled the case in January 2016 (see Dkt. No. 70; see also Dkt. No. 85-1 (“Settlement”))
 3 and the Court granted final approval of the class settlement on December 6, 2016 (see Dkt.
 4 No. 139). On December 15, 2016, the Court awarded Plaintiffs attorneys’ fees and costs
 5 pursuant to the Settlement. See Dkt. Nos. 139, 144.

6 Plaintiffs now seek additional attorneys’ fees and costs for resources expended in 7 monitoring Uber’s settlement compliance. See Dkt. No. 185. Plaintiffs voluntarily agree
 8 to reduce their claimed amount by 5% across the board. See id. at 19.¹ Uber opposes,
 9 arguing that Plaintiffs are not entitled to additional fees and, even if they were, Plaintiffs’
 10 request is unreasonable. See generally Dkt. No. 187.

11 II. Settlement Agreement

12 Certain sections of the Settlement are relevant to this motion. The Court 13 summarizes those portions below.

14 The Settlement requires Uber to “collect and report to Plaintiffs’ Counsel” rating 15 and complaint information for riders with service animals. See Settlement § 6.A. Uber is 16 required to report the raw data for that information to Plaintiffs’ Counsel. Id. § 6.B.1. In 17 addition, if Plaintiffs’ Counsel provides Uber with a documented complaint of 18 discrimination by a rider, Uber is required to verify corresponding data and assign a unique 19 number identifier to the allegedly offending driver. See id. § 6.B.2.

20 NFIB is required to create a “compliance testing program” that uses blind testers 21 with guide dogs using Uber’s UberX service to test compliance. Id. § 6.C. Uber agreed to 22 pay NFIB $225,000 “to support the testing program.” Id. § 11.A. If the Settlement is 23 extended, Uber is required to pay NFIB an additional $75,000 to support the program. See 24 id. §§ 7, 11.A.

25 The Settlement also requires an appointment of a third-party Monitor. See id. § 8.
 26 Annually, the Monitor is obligated to “review and analyze” all data collected and reported 27

28 ¹ All page numbers reference the page numbers automatically generated by ECF unless otherwise indicated.

1 by Uber pursuant to Section 6 of the Settlement, in addition to “any other information
2 provided to the Monitor by the Parties.” Id. The Monitor then reports to the Parties
3 whether Uber substantially complied with the Settlement during the preceding year. Id.
4 The Monitor is also required to “propose . . . further modifications to Uber’s policies, 5 practices, and procedures” if such policies, practices, or procedures were insufficient to 6 address discrimination. Id.

7 Lastly, the Settlement permits Plaintiffs to seek attorneys’ fees and costs incurred
8 up through the effective date of the Settlement. Id. § 11.C. Uber agreed “not to dispute 9 the entitlement to reasonable Attorneys’ Fees incurred up through the Effective Date of 10 [the] Agreement[,]” but reserved the right to dispute the amount of fees requested. Id. For 11 fees and costs related to “work performed after the time the Settlement Agreement is 12 signed by all Parties, including for work spent on compliance monitoring, enforcement, 13 and/or work spent securing their fees[,]” Plaintiffs reserved their rights to pursue such fees, 14 but the Settlement acknowledged that “all issues pertaining to any such attorneys’ fees, 15 costs, and expenses are unresolved” Id. § 11.C.1. The Parties are required to confer
16 and negotiate as to any fees and costs related to Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s monitoring efforts
17 before petitioning the Court. Id. § 11.C.2.

18 The Court retained jurisdiction. See id. § 12; see also Dkt. No. 145.

19 III. Discussion

20 A. Entitlement to Fees

21 The parties first dispute whether Plaintiffs are entitled to fees. See Dkt. No. 187 at 22 11. According to Uber, the Settlement did not authorize attorneys’ fees for monitoring
23 work and the ADA’s fee-shifting statute does not allow such fees. Id. The Court 24 disagrees.

25 In Prison Legal News v. Scharzenegger, 608 F.3d 446 (9th Cir. 2010), the Ninth
26 Circuit reaffirmed that “a party that prevails by obtaining a consent decree may recover
27 attorneys’ fees under [42 U.S.C.] § 1988 for monitoring compliance with the decree, even 28 when such monitoring does not result in any judicially sanctioned relief.” Prison Legal

1 News, 608 F.3d at 451 (citing Keith v. Volpe, 833 F.2d 850, 855–57 (9th Cir. 1987)).
2 Thus, plaintiffs may recover attorneys’ fees for monitoring compliance with a settlement
3 agreement under § 1988. Id. at 452; see also Balla v. Idaho, 677 F.3d 910, 916 (9th Cir.
4 2012) (“[M]onitoring fees not resulting in additional relief are allowable . . .”).

5 Uber contends that Prison Legal News and its progeny are inapposite because those 6 cases concern a different fee shifting statute. But § 1988 and the ADA’s fee-shifting
7 statute, 42 U.S.C. § 12205, are virtually identical. Compare 42 U.S.C. § 1988(b) (“the 8 court, in its discretion, may allow the prevailing party . . . a reasonable attorney’s fee as 9 part of the costs . . .”) with 42 U.S.C. § 12205 (“the court or agency, in its discretion, may 10 allow the prevailing party . . . a reasonable attorney’s fee, including litigation expenses, 11 and costs . . .”). Uber has not identified any principled reason why the Court should 12 interpret the two statutes differently.

13 Moreover, the Supreme Court rejected a similar argument in Pennsylvania v.
14 Delaware Valley Citizens’ Council for Clean Air, 478 U.S. 546 (1986). There, the court
15 noted that the fee-shifting provisions of the Clean Air Act and § 1988 served “the common 16 purpose of . . . promot[ing] citizen enforcement of important federal policies,” such that 17 there was “no reason not to interpret both provisions governing attorney’s fees in the same 18 manner.” Id. at 560. The same is true of the ADA’s fee-shifting statute and § 1988. See 19 Buckhannon Bd. & Care Home v. W.V. Dep’t of Health & Human Res., 532 U.S. 598, 20 629–30 (2001) (“the . . . ADA fee-shifting prescriptions [were] modeled on 42 U.S.C.
21 § 1988 unmodified . . .”), superseded by statute on other grounds.

22 Nor does the language of the Settlement foreclose attorneys’ fees for monitoring
23 work. Rather, the Settlement explicitly acknowledges that “all issues pertaining to” fees, 24 costs, and expenses relating to “work performed after the time the Settlement Agreement is 25 signed . . . including for work spent on compliance monitoring [and] enforcement” was an 26 unresolved issue. See Settlement § 11.C.1.

27 Accordingly, the Court finds that Plaintiffs are entitled to reasonable attorneys’ fees
28 incurred in connection with monitoring Uber’s compliance with the Settlement.

1 B. Reasonableness of Fees

2 Uber does not contest the reasonableness of Plaintiffs’ claimed costs. See Dkt. No.
3 185 at 27 (requesting costs in the amount of $685.36). Plaintiffs adequately documented
4 those costs and they appear reasonable. Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Plaintiffs’
5 requests for costs in the amount of $685.36.

6 Uber also does not challenge Plaintiffs’ counsels’ claimed rates and the Court
7 previously approved Plaintiffs’ counsels’ rates. See Dkt. No. 144. Although Plaintiffs’
8 counsels rates have increased, the increase is modest and the Court FINDS that Plaintiffs’
9 counsels’ rates remain reasonable. Compare Dkt. No. 142 at 4 with Dkt. No. 185-1 at 21.

10 Instead, Uber challenges five categories of Plaintiffs’ requested attorneys’ fees as 11 unnecessary or unreasonable. See Dkt. No. 187 at 14–22. Uber also argues that Plaintiffs’
12 fees should be further reduced due to vague time entries and block billing. Id. at 22–24.
13 The Court will first address each category of contested fees, then turn to Uber’s objections.
14 See Dkt. No. 185-1, Ex. G (summary of claimed fees).

15 1. Work Related to Conferring with Monitor

16 In this category, Plaintiffs claim fees for hours spent (1) analyzing Uber’s data
17 reports and (2) for work related to conferring with the Monitor about those reports. See 18 Dkt. No. 185-1 (“Galvan Decl.”) ¶¶ 42–43. Uber concedes that the hours spent analyzing 19 Uber’s reports are compensable,² but argues that the hours spent for work relating to 20 conferring with the Monitor was unnecessary. See Dkt. No. 187 at 15–16. According to 21 Uber, such work is not compensable because the Settlement limits Plaintiffs’ counsel’s
22 involvement with the Monitor’s review Uber’s data reports. Id. at 15. Specifically, Uber
23 contends that the Settlement only contemplates review of its reports by Plaintiffs’ counsel
24 and “formal analyses . . . or opining with or conferring with the Monitor about Uber’s data 25 reports” is outside the scope of the Settlement. Id.

26 The Court disagrees. While the Settlement explicitly requires Uber to provide

27

28 ² Uber argues that these hours should be reduced as they were block billed. See Dkt. No. 187 at 16. The Court will address Plaintiffs’ block billing below.

1 Plaintiffs' counsel with data reports for analysis (see Settlement §§ 6.A, 6.B.1), the 2 Settlement does not limit Plaintiffs' counsel's involvement to that of a passive observer.
 3 Rather, the Settlement requires the Monitor to consider "any other information provided,"
 4 suggesting by implication that Plaintiffs' counsel are permitted to submit their own
 5 commentary on Uber's data reports. Id. § 8. Accordingly, work conducted by Plaintiffs'
 6 counsel relating to conferring with the Monitor is generally compensable.

7 However, the fact that the Settlement permits Plaintiffs to supply their own
 8 commentary on Uber's data reports to the Monitor is not a license to bill for wholly 9 unnecessary work that is duplicative of Uber's reports. See Balla, 677 F.3d at 919 ("[T]he 10 court [must] exercise discretion [to] assure that the case is not being milked by a monitor
 11 after the injunction has been obtained, for fees that are unreasonable in amount, for work 12 not reasonably performed to enforce the relief, or for work not directly related to enforcing 13 the relief."). It is unclear, for example, why Plaintiffs need to draft, review, and submit 14 declarations from individual complaining class members, particularly when there is no
 15 indication that Plaintiffs believe Uber's internal data keeping was inaccurate. See, e.g., 16 Galvan Decl., Ex. F, pt.1 at 101 (billing over 6 hours at $400 per hour to review or draft 17 class member declarations), 113 (reviewing and drafting various class member 18 declarations). Further, Plaintiffs' billing records for this category of work contain several 19 vague time entries, some of which have questionable billing value. See, e.g., id. at 147
 20 (billing 0.8 hours at $275 per hour for "[m]aking a declaration, cover letter, and report 21 accessible"). Most of the hours, however, appear reasonable.

22 Accordingly, the Court will reduce Plaintiffs' counsel's fee for work relating to 23 conferring with the Monitor by 10% in addition to Plaintiffs' voluntary 5% reduction. The 24 Court will not reduce Plaintiffs' counsel's fee for analyzing Uber's data beyond Plaintiffs'
 25 voluntary 5% reduction. Thus, Plaintiffs are entitled to $59,528.90 and $34,143.95 for 26 these two sub-categories of work, respectively.

27 2. Work Related to Communicating with Class Members

28 This category contains three sub-categories of work: (1) communicating with class

1 members to address and respond to discrimination complaints; (2) submitting information
2 requests to Uber pursuant to the Settlement’s process (see Settlement § 6.B.2); and (3)
3 following up with class members who participated in NFIB’s compliance testing program
4 (see id. § 6.C). Uber concedes that the second sub-category of work is compensable but 5 argues that the first and third sub-categories are not. See Dkt. No. 187 at 16.

6 As to the first sub-category of work—communicating with class members to 7 address and respond to discrimination complaints—Uber is correct that Plaintiffs should 8 not be compensated to the extent they are merely creating a parallel complaint
9 investigations process. The Settlement itself already creates a procedure for class
10 members to raise discrimination complaints—a procedure hailed by Plaintiffs as a 11 significant boon for the class. See Dkt. No. 84.

12 This does not mean, however, that Plaintiffs’ counsel is required to sit on their 13 hands and rubber-stamp Uber’s efforts. Plaintiffs’ counsel’s obligations to the class
14 requires them to take an active role in ensuring that the Settlement is working as intended.
15 And communicating with class members regarding Uber’s behavior is the core of 16 monitoring efforts. In Prison Legal News, for example, the Ninth Circuit affirmed 17 attorneys’ fees for “reviewing and responding to letters from [class members] complaining 18 about” the defendants’ failure to comply with the settlement. Prison Legal News, 608 F.3d
19 at 453. The Ninth Circuit noted that “[w]ithout such correspondence [with class 20 members], it would be difficult for [plaintiffs] to discover or document violations of the 21 terms of the settlement.” Id.

22 Upon review of Plaintiffs’ records, the Court is persuaded that Plaintiffs’ 23 communication with class members regarding their discrimination complaints is limited to 24 compiling information relating to their monitoring efforts and does not create a parallel 25 track for investigating complaints.

26 As to the third sub-category of work—communications with class members who 27 participated in NFIB’s compliance testing program—the Court agrees with Uber.
28 Plaintiffs have already been compensated for work related to NFIB’s compliance testing

1 program. Section 11.A of the Settlement requires Uber to pay NFIB $225,000 “to support
 2 the testing program.” Such payments naturally encompass fees and costs incurred in 3 reviewing program data or following up with program participants. Plaintiffs may not
 4 double-dip for the compliance testing program. Disallowed amounts are listed in the chart
 5 below.³ Although some of these entries were coded by Plaintiffs as “Settlement
 6 Modifications” work, the Court compiles all disallowed NFIB-related hours here:

14 Accordingly, Plaintiffs are entitled to attorneys' fees for communicating with class
15 members and submitting information requests to Uber less Plaintiffs' voluntary 5%
16 reduction in fees. This amounts to $66,357.50.

17 3. Work Relating to Unwarranted or Abandoned Modifications

18 In this category, Plaintiffs seek attorneys' fees relating to their efforts to modify the 19 Settlement in three ways: (1) policies relating to Uber's UberPool service; (2) seeking 20 quarterly data extension; and (3) requesting further data sharing provisions. Plaintiffs also 21 seek attorneys' fees for work relating to their settlement modification efforts that were not 22 specifically allocated to a single sub-category. See Dkt. No. 185 at 13–14; Dkt. No. 195 at 23 4–5. Uber concedes that the second sub-category of fees relating to quarterly data
24 extensions are compensable. See Dkt. No. 187 at 18, 20. The first and third sub-category, 25 according to Uber, are not compensable because those proposals were unnecessary or not 26 accepted. Id. at 18–19. Uber also argues that Plaintiffs' records documenting work 27 relating to unspecified settlement modification efforts is too vague and may hide double-
28 billing. See Dkt. No. 200 at 5–6.

1 First, the Court rejects Uber’s argument that those hours are not compensable
2 because the Settlement has been effective. Disallowing monitoring fees because Plaintiffs 3 were successful in negotiating and crafting a successful settlement would be counter-
4 productive. Monitoring fees are permissible so long as they are not unreasonable and are 5 related to enforcing the settlement. See Balla, 677 F.3d at 919.

6 Second, Uber concedes that Plaintiffs’ proposed modifications to its UberPool
7 program and the data sharing provisions of the Settlement have been adopted “in a very 8 limited fashion voluntarily by Uber.” Dkt. No. 187 at 19. But Plaintiffs are not required to 9 achieve complete victory nor were they required to obtain a court order or official 10 modification to be entitled to fees. In Balla, Ninth Circuit affirmed modification fees even 11 though the plaintiffs’ motion to hold the defendant in contempt was denied because 12 plaintiffs’ motion practice “played a key role in resolving” the underlying issue. Balla,
13 677 F.3d at 920 (quotations omitted). The Ninth Circuit noted that “[i]f in a battle to take a 14 hill, the adversary flees instead of fighting to a bloody defeat, the taking of the hill makes 15 the battle a victory.” Id.

16 Here, although they may not have achieved wholesale adoption of these proposals, 17 Plaintiffs achieved at least some success as to their UberPool, quarterly data extension, and 18 further data sharing proposals. Plaintiffs seek fees connected to those proposals. After 19 reviewing Plaintiffs’ records, the billed amounts appear reasonable. Less Plaintiffs’
20 voluntary 5% reduction, Plaintiffs are entitled to $29,324.61 for work related to these three 21 sub-categories.⁴

22 As to Plaintiffs’ requested fees for unspecified settlement modification work, the 23 Court shares Uber’s concern that counsels’ records are vague. While the Court is not 24 persuaded that Plaintiffs’ counsel double-billed for unspecified settlement modification
25 work related to the three sub-categories discussed in this order, the parties’ submissions
26

27 _____
28 ⁴ As mentioned in footnote 3, supra, some entries block billed NFIB-testing-program-related work and UberPool work. Because the Court already eliminated those fees—$801 in total—it does not do so again here.

1 make clear that Plaintiffs’ counsel spent time working on settlement modification
2 proposals that ultimately went nowhere. See Galvan Decl. ¶¶ 45–47; Dkt. No. 187-1
3 (“Spurchase Decl.”), Ex. 2. In particular, Plaintiffs proposed modifications to the 4 Settlement’s education provisions in addition to the three sub-categories already discussed.
5 See Spurchase Decl., Ex. 2 at 4. Because it is not clear that the wholly abandoned
6 education proposal played any role in their overarching settlement modification efforts,
7 hours expended relating to that proposal is not compensable. Cf. Balla, 677 F.3d at 920
8 (fees expended on efforts that “play[] a key role” are compensable).

9 Accordingly, the Court will reduce Plaintiffs’ counsel’s fee for work relating to 10 unspecified settlement modification work by 20% in addition to Plaintiffs’ voluntary 5%
11 reduction. This amounts to $44,689.90 in fees for unspecified settlement modification
12 work. In total, Plaintiffs are entitled to $74,014.51 for work relating to their settlement 13 modification efforts.

14 4. Other Direct Monitoring Work

15 This category of work includes (1) responding to inquiries from the United States 16 Department of Justice regarding the Settlement; (2) investigating Uber’s filings with the 17 California Public Utilities Commission, arbitrations of service animal issues, and other
18 similar developments; (3) corresponding with Uber to verify compliance with Settlement 19 requirements; and (4) conferring with a consultant regarding evaluating the efficacy of the 20 Settlement at reducing discrimination against class members.

21 Here, Uber simply argues that this work is not compensable because these tasks
22 were “[too] attenuated” from the Settlement. Dkt. No. 185 at 21. The Court is not 23 convinced. Corresponding with and investigating actions taken by regulatory bodies
24 responsible for discrimination complaints is well within the scope of monitoring 25 compliance with a discrimination-related settlement. Likewise, Plaintiffs are entitled to 26 reasonable consultant fees to evaluate whether the Settlement is working as intended.

27 Accordingly, Plaintiffs are entitled to attorneys’ fees for their direct monitoring
28 work less their voluntary 5% reduction in fees. This amounts to $13,130.90.

1 5. Fees Relating to Plaintiffs' Unfiled Attorneys' Fee Motion

2 The next category of fees relates to work expended by Plaintiffs' counsel on an
3 unfiled fees motion. In March 2018, the parties began negotiating Plaintiffs' counsel's
4 attorneys' fees for work conducted in 2017. See Galvan Decl. ¶¶ 64–70; Spurchase Decl.
5 ¶¶ 4–5. Under the Settlement, the parties are required to negotiate such fees within 60
6 days before seeking Court intervention. See Settlement § 11.C.2. The parties initially 7 failed to come to an agreement within the 60-day limit, but ultimately settled the dispute
8 by July 2, 2018. See Galvan Decl. ¶¶ 67–69; Spurchase Decl. ¶¶ 4–5. The fees motion 9 was thus never filed.

10 Given the Settlement's requirement that the parties negotiate their fees dispute, it
11 was unreasonable for Plaintiffs to bill for hours preparing a fee motion prior to April 30,
12 2018—the end of the 60-day negotiation period. Once it became clear that no settlement
13 was forthcoming, however, Plaintiffs were entitled to begin preparing their fees motion
14 and are entitled to fees for time spent accordingly. Thus, the Court disallows all fees billed 15 prior to April 30, 2018, less Plaintiffs' voluntary 5% reduction. Accordingly, Plaintiffs are 16 entitled to $4,393.75 in fees and costs for their unfiled fees motion. See Galvan Decl., Ex.
17 F, pt. 2 at 7–12.

18 6. Fees Relating to This Fees Motion

19 Finally, Plaintiffs request fees for preparing the instant fees motion. Plaintiffs 20 request $64,019.25 for hours worked from May 14, 2019—the last day of the parties'
21 negotiation period—to August 25, 2019. See Dkt. No. 190 at 20. After being given an 22 opportunity to respond, Uber did not oppose Plaintiffs' request for fees relating to the 23 instant fees motion. See Dkt. Nos. 199, 200.

24 Reviewing Plaintiffs' records (see Dkt. No. 190-1 at 24–29), the requested hours are 25 well documented and appear reasonable. Accordingly, after accounting for Plaintiffs'
26 voluntary reductions, Plaintiffs are entitled to $64,019.25 in fees relating to this fees 27 motion.

28 ///

7. Specific Challenges to Hours

Uber challenges 13.2 hours as unduly vague and an additional 137.7 hours for impermissible block billing.⁵ The Court first addresses Uber's vagueness challenges before turning to the alleged block-billed hours.

When submitting entries for attorneys' fee awards, attorneys are "not required to record in great detail how each minute of [their] time was expended." Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 437 n.12 (1983). Attorneys need only "keep records in sufficient detail that a neutral judge can make a fair evaluation of the time expended, the nature and need for the service, and the reasonable fees to be allowed." Id. at 441 (Burger, C.J., concurring); United Steelworkers of Am. v. Ret. Income Plan For Hourly-Rated Employees of ASARCO, Inc., 512 F.3d 555, 565 (9th Cir. 2008).

The Court reviewed the entries Uber identified as vague. See Dkt. No. 187-6. It agrees as to the following entries:

Entry Description	Date of Entry	Claimed Time	Claimed Amount
Team phone call	1/8/2018	1.60	$752
Correspondence regarding proposed changes to settlement	1/17/2018	0.10	$47
Phone call with D. Kouniaris	1/19/2018	0.30	$141
Correspondence re meeting and conferring	1/25/2018	0.10	$47
Prepare Declaration and Exhibit	2/25/2018	0.90	$315
Team pre-meet and confer phone call	4/23/2018	1.00	$470

⁵ In accompanying exhibits, Uber appears to argue that certain of Plaintiffs' counsel's billed hours were duplicative or clerical work in disguise. See Spurchise Decl. ¶ 8 & Ex. 3. Uber's opposition, however, does not challenge those hours. And, in any case, review of those entries does not suggest that they are duplicative or clerical.

1	Drafting declaration and gathering exhibits	6/5/2018	1.60	$752
3	Discuss next steps with team	10/11/2018	0.30	$105
4	Preparing for team call	10/18/2018	0.30	$141
5	Make stipulation accessible at the request of M. Riess	12/18/2018	0.20	$55
7	Total			$2,825

9 “Block billing” is “the time-keeping method by which each lawyer and legal 10 assistant enters the total daily time spent working on a case, rather than itemizing the time
11 expended on specific tasks.” Welch v. Metro. Life Ins. Co., 480 F.3d 942, 945 (9th Cir.
12 2007). Block billing is not per se unreasonable and “has been accepted in this district.”
13 PQ Labs, Inc. v. Qi, No. 12-cv-00450 CW, 2015 WL 224970, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 16,
14 2015) (citing Stonebrae, L.P. v. Toll Bros., Inc., No. 08-cv-00221 EMC, 2011 WL
15 1334444, at *8 (N.D.Cal. Apr. 7, 2011) (“Block-billing is a typical practice in this district,
16 and blocked-bills have been found to provide a sufficient basis for calculating a fee 17 award.”)). However, the block-billing party seeking fees must still meet the basic 18 requirements of “listing his hours and identifying the general subject matter of his time
19 expenditures.” Garcia v. Resurgent Capital Servs., L.P., No. 11-cv-01253 EMC, 2012 WL
20 3778852, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 30, 2012) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).
21 Otherwise, the trial court may reduce or outright deny the award. Fischer v. SJN-P.D. Inc., 22 214 F.3d 1115, 1121 (9th Cir. 2000).

23 Here, the Court finds that the alleged block-billed entries “contain enough 24 specificity as to individual tasks to ascertain whether the amount of time spent performing 25 them was reasonable.” Garcia, 2012 WL 3778852, at *8. Because the block-billed entries
26 are adequately detailed to permit the Court to assess the reasonableness of hours expended,
27 the Court finds that plaintiffs’ counsel have sufficiently documented their hours; no
28 reduction is necessary on this basis.

1 C. Motion to Seal

2 Plaintiffs move to seal two exhibits containing a chart and graph detailing the 3 number of service-animal-related complaints received by Uber on a month-to-month basis.
4 See Dkt. No. 189-5. Plaintiffs also seek to redact two portions of their reply referencing
5 that information. See Dkt. No. 189-4 at 13. Notably, the information sought to be sealed
6 are merely information derived from Uber’s data reports, not the reports themselves.

7 Local Rule 79-5(e)(1) requires the party designating a document as confidential to 8 “file a declaration as required by [Local Rule] 79-5(d)(1)(A) establishing that all of the 9 designated material is sealable” within four days of the filing of the motion to seal. Local 10 Rule 79-5(d)(1)(A) further explains that merely “[r]eferenc[ing] a stipulation or protective 11 order that allows a party to designate certain documents as confidential is not sufficient to 12 establish that a document, or portions thereof, are sealable.” See also Kamakana v. City &
13 Cty. of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir. 2006) (listing grounds establishing 14 “compelling reasons” to seal court files).

15 Plaintiffs filed their motion to seal and served their motion on Uber on August 30,
16 2019. See Dkt. Nos. 189, 191. Because more than four days have passed since Plaintiffs 17 filed their motion and Uber has not filed a declaration explaining why the derived 18 information contained in the exhibits or the reply is confidential, the Court DENIES the 19 administrative motion to seal without prejudice. Plaintiffs must file the documents in the 20 public record by October 11, 2019. See N.D. Cal. Local Rule 79-5(e)(2).

21 IV. Conclusion

22 The Court GRANTS Plaintiffs’ motion for attorneys’ fees and costs. Plaintiffs are 23 entitled to $312,763.76 in attorneys’ fees and $685.36 in costs for a total award of 24 $313,449.12. Uber must pay the award within 14 days of this order.

25 The Court DENIES Plaintiffs’ administrative motion to seal. Plaintiffs must file the 26 documents in the public record by October 11, 2019.
