INTRODUCTION

2 The U.S. House of Representatives (House) submits this amicus curiae brief in support of 3 plaintiffs’ motion for summary judgment. The House has a compelling institutional interest in this 4 suit, which seeks to enjoin the Administration from spending federal funds without a valid 5 Congressional appropriation and, indeed, in defiance of a clear Congressional refusal to appropriate 6 funds in excess of $1.35 billion for a border wall.<sup>1</sup>

8 The Appropriations Clause of the Constitution, U.S. Const., Art. I, § 9, cl. 7, vests Congress 9 with “exclusive power over the federal purse,” and is “one of the most important authorities 10 allocated to Congress in the Constitution’s ‘necessary partition of power among the several 11 departments.’” U.S. Dep’t of the Navy v. FLRA, 665 F.3d 1339, 1346 (D.C. Cir. 2012) (quoting 12 The Federalist No. 51, at 320 (James Madison) (Clinton Rossiter ed., 1961)). Notwithstanding this 13 bedrock constitutional principle, the Administration seeks to invoke inapposite general 14 appropriations authorities to circumvent Congress’s rejection of President Trump’s demand for $5 15 billion for a border wall. As President Trump recently stated, “we’re taking money from all over 16 because as you know the Democrats don’t want us to build the wall.”<sup>2</sup> 17

18 Specifically, plaintiffs’ motion for partial summary judgment concerns the Administration’s 19 reprogramming of $3.6 billion from Department of Defense (DOD) military construction projects 20 to border wall construction under 10 U.S.C. § 2808. As demonstrated below and in plaintiffs’ 21 filings, the Administration’s invocation of Section 2808 in defense of its unconstitutional spending 22 on the border wall fails.<sup>3</sup> Most importantly, Section 2808 does not authorize spending that 9, 2019), <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0fEdhud7RJI>.

27 <sup>3</sup> The House fully supports plaintiffs’ request for injunctive relief in this case. The House 28 has focused this brief on the Appropriations Clause issues of greatest concern to the House and does not address all of the arguments raised by plaintiffs to avoid burdening the Court with repetitive briefing.

1 Congress has blatantly refused to provide. And, in any event, Section 2808 only authorizes the 2 reprogramming of military construction funds subject to specific requirements, which the 3 Administration has not met here.

4 This Court should grant summary judgment to plaintiffs on their claims with respect to 5 expenditures the Administration purports to make under Section 2808 and forbid the 6 Administration from spending funds under Section 2808 on the construction of a border wall.

8 BACKGROUND

9 This dispute grew directly out of the pitched battle that the President and Congress waged 10 over the subject of this litigation—funding for a border wall. Although the President originally 11 requested “$1.6 billion to construct approximately 65 miles of border wall,”<sup>4</sup> by the middle of 2018, 12 he was “press[ing] Republicans to give him $5 billion as a down payment on his wall.”<sup>5</sup> Near the 13 end of the 115th Congress, he and Congress faced an impasse on the issue.
14

15 In December 2018, President Trump held a televised meeting with then-House Minority 16 Leader Nancy Pelosi and Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, to negotiate fiscal year 2019
17 appropriations for a border wall.<sup>6</sup> During that meeting, the President reiterated his demand for $5 18 billion for a border wall. He also warned that “[i]f we don’t get what we want one way or the other,
19 whether it’s through you, through a military, through anything you want to call it, I will shut down 20 the government.”<sup>7</sup>

1 Congress did not yield to that threat, and on December 21, 2018, the longest Federal 2 Government shutdown in history began. More than two weeks later, President Trump addressed 3 the nation from the Oval Office, imploring Congress to “do[] its job” and “pass a bill that ends this 4 crisis.”<sup>8</sup> Congress still refused to appropriate the funds he sought for the border wall, and on 5 January 25, 2019, President Trump signed a continuing resolution to fund the Government through 6 February 14, 2019.<sup>9</sup> Over the next several weeks, a bipartisan conference committee negotiated a 7 deal to fund the government. While those negotiations were underway, the Acting White House
 8 Chief of Staff stated that the southern border wall “is going to get built, with or without Congress.”<sup>10</sup>

 10 Ultimately, Congress passed the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2019, Pub L. No. 116-11 6, 133 Stat. 13 (CAA), which appropriated only $1.375 billion for construction of fencing in the 12 Rio Grande Valley area of the border. Id. § 230, 133 Stat. at 28. On February 15, 2019, President 13 Trump signed the CAA into law.<sup>11</sup> That same day, however, he expressed dissatisfaction with the 14 appropriation for border wall construction and announced that his Administration would instead 15 spend up to $8.1 billion for that purpose.<sup>12</sup>

16 17 The White House stated that it would draw funding from three sources to supplement the 18 amount appropriated by Congress:

- 19
- 20 • About $601 million from the Treasury Forfeiture Fund
  - 21 • Up to $2.5 billion under the Department of Defense funds transferred for Support for 22 Counterdrug Activities (Title 10 United States Code, section 284)

- Up to $3.6 billion reallocated from Department of Defense military construction projects under the President’s declaration of a national emergency (Title 10 United States Code, section 2808).<sup>13</sup>

The White House stated that these sources “will be used sequentially and as needed.”<sup>14</sup> This motion for partial summary judgment concerns only the final purported funding source—Section 2808.

As a predicate to asserting authority under Section 2808(a) to spend funds on border wall construction, on February 15, 2019, President Trump declared a “national emergency” at the southern border:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DONALD J. TRUMP, by the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, including sections 201 and 301 of the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), hereby declare that a national emergency exists at the southern border of the United States[.] . . . To provide additional authority to the Department of Defense to support the Federal Government’s response to the emergency at the southern border, I hereby declare that this emergency requires use of the Armed Forces and, in accordance with section 301 of the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1631), that the construction authority provided in section 2808 of title 10, United States Code, is invoked and made available, according to its terms, to the Secretary of Defense and, at the discretion of the Secretary of Defense, to the Secretaries of the military departments.<sup>15</sup>

The House is unaware of any other instance in American history where a President has declared a national emergency to obtain funding after having failed to win Congressional approval for an appropriation.<sup>16</sup>

The President’s proclamation outlines the asserted basis for the national emergency declaration. It finds that “[t]he southern border is a major entry point for criminals, gang members,

1 and illicit narcotics.”<sup>17</sup> The proclamation concedes that this “problem of large-scale unlawful 2 migration . . . is longstanding,” but states that “the situation has worsened in certain respects in 3 recent years” because there are “sharp increases in the number of family units entering and seeking 4 entry to the United States and an inability to provide detention space for many of these aliens while 5 their removal proceedings are pending.”<sup>18</sup>

7 Prior to signing the proclamation, President Trump explained his decision in Rose Garden 8 remarks.<sup>19</sup> Among other things, President Trump said that Democrats appropriated for border 9 security a “crazy” amount of money—“so much money, we don’t know what to do with it.”<sup>20</sup> 10 Democrats “didn’t even fight us on most of the stuff,” such as “[p]orts of entry.”<sup>21</sup> “The only place 11 [Democrats] don’t want to give as much money [is the wall]—[$1.375 billion],” which “[s]ounds 12 like a lot, but it’s not so much.”<sup>22</sup> Later he remarked: “I went through Congress. I made a deal. I 13 got almost $1.4 billion when I wasn’t supposed to get one dollar—not one dollar. ‘He’s not going 14 to get one dollar.’ Well, I got $1.4 billion. But I’m not happy with it.”<sup>23</sup>

16 Reiterating that he was “successful” in getting Democrats to appropriate funding for the 17 wall, President Trump explained why he nevertheless declared a national emergency: “So I did—I 18 was successful, in that sense, but I want to do it faster. I could do the wall over a longer period of 19 time. I didn’t need to do this. But I’d rather do it much faster . . . And I think that I just want to 20 get it done faster, that’s all.”<sup>24</sup>

1 Congress swiftly rebuked President Trump’s decision to declare a national emergency at 2 the southern border and spend in excess of what Congress had appropriated on the construction of 3 a border wall. On February 26, 2019, the House adopted House Joint Resolution 46 by a vote of 4 245 to 182, terminating President Trump’s national emergency declaration pursuant to section 202 5 of the National Emergencies Act, 50 U.S.C. § 1622.<sup>25</sup> On March 14, 2019, the Senate passed the 6 joint resolution by a vote of 59 to 41.<sup>26</sup> The joint resolution was supported by numerous 7 Republicans, such as Senator Mitt Romney, who stated that his vote of disapproval was “a vote for 8 the Constitution and for the balance of powers that is at its core.”<sup>27</sup> President Trump vetoed the 9 joint resolution on March 15, 2019.<sup>28</sup>

11 The Administration has since then taken various steps to advance construction of the wall, 12 and most recently it authorized eleven border wall projects in California, Arizona, New Mexico
 13 and Texas pursuant to Section 2808.<sup>29</sup> The Secretary of Defense stated that these eleven projects 14 “are necessary to support the use of the armed forces in connection with the national emergency.”<sup>30</sup> 15 He asserted that the projects “will deter illegal entry, increase the vanishing time of those illegally 16 crossing the border, and channel migrants to ports of entry.”<sup>31</sup> In his view, this would “reduce the 17 demand for DoD personnel and assets at the locations where the barriers are constructed and allow 18 the redeployment of DoD personnel and assets to other high-traffic areas on the border without

3 ARGUMENT

4 THE ADMINISTRATION’S EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS UNDER SECTION 2808 ON 5 CONSTRUCTION OF A BORDER WALL VIOLATES THE APPROPRIATIONS 6 CLAUSE

7 I. Defendants Have Violated the Appropriations Clause.

8 Plaintiffs have asserted a constitutional claim under the Appropriations Clause. As the 9 history recited above makes clear, Congress rejected President Trump’s request for over $5 billion 10 for a border wall, but the Administration nonetheless decided to build the wall “without 11 Congress.”<sup>33</sup> This decision violates the Appropriations Clause, which dictates that the 12 Administration may spend funds—including to build a border wall—only if, and to the extent that, 13 Congress appropriates funds for that purpose. See, e.g., Reeside v. Walker, 52 U.S. (11 How.) 272, 14 291 (1850) (“It is a well-known constitutional provision, that no money can be taken or drawn from 15 the Treasury except under an appropriation by Congress.”).

17 Having precipitated the longest government shutdown in history because Congress would 18 not appropriate the amount of funds it wanted for a border wall, the Administration now claims to 19 have found “secreted in the interstices of legislation the very grant of power which Congress 20 consciously withheld.” Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. v. Sawyer, 343 U.S. 579, 609 (1952) 21 (Frankfurter, J., concurring). As relevant here, the Administration relies on Section 2808. But this 22 statute does not authorize spending in excess of the funds that Congress has appropriated, 23 particularly where, as here, Congress has denied additional expenditures for a particular purpose.

1           II. Section 2808 Does Not Allow Defendants to Spend More on a Border Wall
2           than Congress Appropriated.

3           Defendants are not authorized to spend federal funds on the construction of a border wall 4 under Section 2808. As this Court correctly recognized, “[u]nder the circumstances, it is unclear 5 how border barrier construction could reasonably constitute a ‘military construction project’ such 6 that Defendants’ invocation of Section 2808 would be lawful.” Sierra Club v. Trump, 379 F. Supp.
7 3d 883, 919 (N.D. Cal. 2019); see id. at 921 (expressing “concern[] with Defendants’ arguments” 8 on Section 2808 but determining at that time that plaintiffs had not shown irreparable harm because 9 the Section 2808 construction project locations had not yet been specified).

11           Section 2808 provides:

12           In the event of a declaration of war or the declaration by the President of a national 13 emergency in accordance with the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.) that 14 requires use of the armed forces, the Secretary of Defense, without regard to any other 15 provision of law, may undertake military construction projects, and may authorize the 16 Secretaries of the military departments to undertake military construction projects, not 17 otherwise authorized by law that are necessary to support such use of the armed forces.
Such projects may be undertaken only within the total amount of funds that have been appropriated for military construction, including funds appropriated for family housing, that have not been obligated.

18           10 U.S.C. § 2808(a). Section 2808(a) thus authorizes the Secretary of Defense to redirect 19 unobligated military construction funds to other projects subject to three specific limitations: 20 (1) there must be a national emergency “that requires use of the armed forces,” (2) the funding must 21 be spent on a “military construction project[],” and (3) the project must be “necessary to support 22 [the] use of the armed forces.” Id.

23           1. In order to transfer funds under Section 2808, there must be a national emergency that 24 “requires the use of the armed forces”—not simply use of the armed forces’ money. There is no 25 such national emergency here.

27           Border security is a matter for domestic law enforcement, specifically DHS and Customs 28 and Border Patrol (CBP). See 6 U.S.C. § 202. CBP is the “largest federal law enforcement agency

1 in the United States,” and its mission is to “safeguard America’s borders.”<sup>34</sup> Indeed, the 2 Administration recognized this fact when it used $601 million from the Treasury Forfeiture Fund<sup>35</sup> 3 to construct a border wall, because money from this fund can be applied only to “law enforcement 4 activities.” 31 U.S.C. § 9705 (g)(4)(B). Moreover, the military is expressly prohibited from 5 making “direct active use of Federal troops” to execute domestic law under the Posse Comitatus 6 Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1385. See also United States v. Dreyer, 804 F.3d 1266, 1272 (9th Cir. 2015). The 7 Administration has made no showing that armed forces are “required” to address the described 8 “emergency.” Indeed, the then-Acting Secretary of Defense has acknowledged that the situation at 9 the border does not constitute “a military threat,”<sup>36</sup> and another top-level defense official has 10 testified that “[n]one of the capabilities that we are providing [at the southern border] are combat 11 capabilities.”<sup>37</sup>

13
14 President Trump’s proclamation asserts that the situation at the border has “worsened” due 15 to “sharp increases in the number of family units entering and seeking entry to the United States 16 and an inability to provide detention space.”<sup>38</sup> But this trend has long been apparent,<sup>39</sup> and the 17 humanitarian and other issues it raises are a matter for domestic law enforcement, not the armed 18 forces. And there is no argument that the circumstances at the border require even the use of DOD 19 money (as distinct from armed forces personnel): The President has stated that the Democrats 20 appropriated for border security “so much money, we don’t know what to do with it.”<sup>40</sup>

1           In sum, the purported emergency here—a surge in illegal immigration—does not “require[]
2 the use of the armed forces.” 10 U.S.C. § 2808(a). It requires, if anything, enhanced domestic law 3 enforcement. As President Trump admits, Congress has appropriated a “crazy” amount of money 4 for this purpose. Congress has simply chosen to allocate most of that money to border security 5 activities that do not include construction of a border wall. The Administration cannot plausibly 6 claim that the armed forces are nevertheless “required” so that DOD can build a wall that Congress 7 deemed unnecessary.

9           2. In any event, a border wall is not a “military construction project” as that term is defined 10 by statute. Section 2801(a) defines “military construction” as “any construction, development, 11 conversion, or extension of any kind carried out with respect to a military installation.” A “military 12 installation,” in turn, is “a base, camp, post, station, yard, center, or other activity under the 13 jurisdiction of the Secretary of a military department.” 10 U.S. C. § 2801(c)(4); see id. § 2801(b) 14 (“military construction project” includes “all military construction work . . . necessary to produce 15 a complete and usable facility or a complete and usable improvement to an existing facility”).
16

17           The Administration’s border wall projects do not constitute “military construction” because, 18 with the exception of two projects on the Barry M. Goldwater Range, the border wall projects are 19 not being “carried out with respect to a military installation.” Simply put, the southern border is 20 not a militarized zone. It is the responsibility of DHS and CBP to ensure border security, not DOD.
21 See supra at 9. Indeed, the Administration has previously invoked 10 U.S.C. § 8005 as a source of 22 transfer authority to transfer DOD funds for purposes of other border wall projects, and that section 23 prohibits transfers for purposes of “military construction.” See Brief of the U.S. House of 24 Representatives as Amicus Curiae in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for a Preliminary Injunction at 25 2-3, 11, Sierra Club v. Trump, No. 4:19-cv-00892 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 15, 2019), ECF No. 47.
26
27
28

1           When DOD approved the projects under Section 2808, the border land at issue here was not 2 even under its jurisdiction, let alone a “military installation.” Attempting to circumvent this 3 threshold failing in its Section 2808 justification, the Administration intends to transfer federal 4 lands along the border to DOD or to have DOD acquire or condemn private land along the border
5 and to argue that this newly acquired land should be considered a “military installation.” See Notice 6 of Filing of Administrative Record for Section 2808 Border Barrier Projects, Sierra Club v. Trump, 7 No. 4:19-cv-00892 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 16, 2019), ECF No. 206 (Administrative Record), Part 1 at 3.
8 But even if these land acquisitions were valid, they do not transform the planned border wall 9 construction into military construction projects. As explained, a “military installation,” is defined 10 to mean “a base, camp, post, station, yard, center, or other activity under the jurisdiction of the 11 Secretary of a military department.” 10 U.S.C. § 2801(c)(4). The border lands at issue here are 12 plainly not military bases, posts, stations, yards or centers—regardless of whether they are owned 13 by DOD. See Sierra Club, 379 F. Supp. 3d at 920 (“Defendants make no attempt to characterize 14 the U.S.-Mexico border or a border barrier as a ‘base, camp, post, station, yard, [or] center.’ Nor 15 could they.” (emphasis added)). And, as this Court has correctly noted, “Section 2801 likely 16 precludes treating the southern border as an ‘other activity.’” Id.

19           “The term ‘other activity’ appears after a list of closely related types of discrete and 20 traditional military locations: ‘a base, camp, post, station, yard, [and] center.’” Id. at 921; see 21 Circuit City Stores, Inc. v. Adams, 532 U.S. 105, 114-15 (2001) (“[W]here general words follow 22 specific words in a statutory enumeration, the general words are construed to embrace only objects 23 similar in nature to those objects enumerated by the preceding specific words.” (quotation marks 24 omitted)). “Had Congress intended for ‘other activity’ in Section 2801(c)(4) to be so broad as to 25 transform literally any activity conducted by a Secretary of a military department into a ‘military 26 installation,’ there would have been no reason to include a list of specific, discrete military 27
28

1 locations.” Sierra Club, 379 F. Supp. 3d at 921. As this Court explained, “[i]t is thus proper to 2 construe ‘other activity’ as referring to similar discrete and traditional military locations.” Id. It 3 remains difficult to “see how the U.S.-Mexico border could fit this bill.” Id. The administrative 4 record does not suggest that troops are stationed on the land where the border wall projects will be 5 built or that such land is otherwise in use as a military post, station, yard, or center, or other similar 6 military location. Simply put, “in context and with an eye toward the overall statutory scheme, 7 nothing demonstrates that Congress ever contemplated that ‘other activity’ has such an unbounded 8 reading that it would authorize Defendants to invoke Section 2808 to build a barrier on the southern 9 border.” Id.

11 Finally, accepting the Administration’s argument that “military construction projects” 12 should include land that DOD is acquiring for the purpose of constructing a border wall and 13 construction of that wall for use by the Customs and Border Patrol—not the military—circumvents 14 the prohibitions of Section 2808 and does not represent a good faith reading of the statute’s 15 requirements. The House is aware of no prior use of Section 2808 funds for a construction project 16 that will not be used by the military.<sup>41</sup> Using Section 2808 funds to obtain land for DOD to 17 purportedly create new military installations to build facilities that will be used for non-military 18 purposes is inconsistent with the intent of Section 2808, and in clear defiance of Section 2808’s 19 limitation “to construction related to a military installation”—i.e., construction on “types of discrete 20 and traditional military locations.” Sierra Club, 379 F. Supp. 3d at 920, 921. This Court should 21 not endorse the Administration’s obvious attempt to circumvent the purposes of the statute.
22
23

24
25
26 <sup>41</sup> Previous projects under Section 2808 have included the construction of barracks hangers 27 and improvements to airfield runways. See Michael J. Vassalotti & Brendan W. McGarry, Military 28 Construction Funding in the Event of a National Emergency, Cong. Research Serv., IN11017, at 2 (2019), <https://perma.cc/75UP-ANE3> (listing all military construction projects under Section 2808 between 2001 and 2014).

1           3. A border wall is not “necessary to support [the] use of the armed forces.” DHS describes 2 its mission as “gain[ing], maintain[ing], and expand[ing] operational control of the U.S. Border 3 between ports of entry,” and views border barriers as a “critical capability[y]” to achieve this 4 mission.<sup>42</sup> Over the past year and a half, the President has ordered a few thousand troops to assist 5 the DHS and the CBP at the border. Consistent with the Posse Comitatus Act, however, troops are 6 limited to “support roles that relieve DHS personnel of non-law enforcement duties (e.g., logistics, 7 planning, and intelligence analysis) or that provide monitoring and detection support (i.e., operating 8 mobile surveillance camera units or providing aerial reconnaissance).”<sup>43</sup>

10           While DOD has asserted that a border wall is “necessary” to support the troops because it 11 “will reduce the demand” for the troops at barrier locations,<sup>44</sup> this assertion falls far short of 12 demonstrating that the border wall is necessary to support the use of the armed forces. It is, at best, 13 an argument that a border wall will reduce the need for domestic law enforcement at the border.
 14 Put differently, the fact that the border wall will make it easier for DHS and CBP to do their jobs—
 15 and potentially reduce or change the way that DOD back-up is used—does not mean that the wall 16 is “necessary to support [the] use of the armed forces.” The relationship between the wall and the 17 “armed forces” is too indirect and attenuated to satisfy this standard of necessity.

19   * * *

21           The Administration’s expenditure of Section 2808 funds defies the mandate of Congress 22 and infringes on the Congressional power of the purse. This Court should not “stretch th[e] words 23 [of Section 2808’s three prerequisites] beyond their normal meaning to give legal cover to the 24 Administration’s transgression.” Schneider v. Smith, 390 U.S. 17, 27 (1968). Section 2808 is one

26 _____
 27           <sup>42</sup> Administrative Record, Part 1 at 42, 54.

28           <sup>43</sup> Id., Part 1 at 42.

1 of the scores of statutes that the President may invoke by declaring a national emergency under the 2 National Emergencies Act.<sup>45</sup> The National Emergencies Act was “not intended to grant additional 3 authority to the President,” but instead to make clear that “[t]he President can only exercise those 4 powers delegated to him in other statutes.”<sup>46</sup> Section 2808 thus limits the circumstances and 5 manner in which the President can exercise this transfer authority. If courts fail to enforce these 6 limits, as a practical matter, the President’s emergency authority will be unbounded.

8       Indeed, accepting the Administration’s interpretation of Section 2808 and other purported 9 authorities for the transfer of DOD funds would transform the shutdown of the federal government 10 into mere political theater. The Administration would have known when 2019 DOD appropriations 11 were passed on September 28, 2018, see Pub. L. No. 115-245, 132 Stat. 2981, that DOD could 12 transfer billions of dollars in wall funding under the provisions it has now invoked. If, as the 13 Administration claims, it possessed the authority after September 2018 to transfer these funds for 14 border wall construction, it surely would not have precipitated the longest government shutdown 15 in history because Congress refused to appropriate the money it requested for that purpose. The 16 Administration’s actions at the end of last year speak far louder than its arguments before this Court 17 now.

19       This Court should hold that the Administration’s expenditure of up to $3.6 billion under 20 Section 2808 for border wall construction violates the Appropriations Clause and is otherwise 21 unauthorized.

23 CONCLUSION

24       For the foregoing reasons, plaintiffs’ motion for partial summary judgment should be 25 granted.
